LITERARY PUBLICATIONS

Jasutopianism | March 21st, 2021

- Published original work presenting a comprehensive governance and organizational framework that encompasses novel socioeconomic theory, legal architecture, institutional design, and long-term policy planning. All to build corruption-resistant systems that continually improve organizational outcomes.
- Demonstrates advanced strategic thinking in resource management, stakeholder accountability, and multi-level organizational structure design.
- Reflects the author's capacity to conceptualize, develop, and document complex, multi-layered management and policy systems entirely from inception to a fully structured institutional model.

Lasting Peace: The Conditional Nuclear Umbrella Doctrine | April 15th, 2026

- Demonstrates advanced strategic thinking in deterrence mechanics, proxy accountability, and multi-party contractual design, constructing a self-enforcing system wherein restraint becomes the most rational calculation available to sovereign actors.
- Reflects the author's capacity to conceptualize, develop, and document complex, multi-layered diplomatic and legal systems entirely from inception to a fully structured, enforcement-ready doctrine with defined adjudication, verification, and annual renewal mechanisms.
- Applies the theoretical architecture nation-by-nation to ten major Middle Eastern conflict pairings (including Israel–Iran, Saudi Arabia–Yemen, Turkey–Syria, and Israel–Palestine), demonstrating the framework's adaptability to specific real-world geopolitical conditions.

The Romance Doctrine: A Theory for Nuclear Deterrence | September 24th, 2026

- Published original work of deterrence theory proposing that deliberate cultural exchange between rival nuclear powers builds a layer of restraint deeper than military threat alone, developed across twelve chapters carrying more than one hundred citations from six disciplines.
- Demonstrates advanced strategic thinking in cultural statecraft and audience psychology, and reflects the author's bilingual capacity through simultaneous publication of the full text in English and Spanish within a single volume.
